DETAILED ACTION

Amendment

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the amendment filed on January 16, 2004. In the amendment
5 claim 2 was canceled, and claims 1, 11 and 13 were amended. Currently, claims 1 and 3-19 remain in the examination.

Information Disclosure Statement

2 The information disclosure statement filed July 23, 2002 fails to comply with 37 CFR
10 1.98(a)(2), which requires a legible copy of each U.S. and foreign patent; each publication or that portion which caused it to be listed; and all other information or that portion which caused it to be listed. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered.

Although no copies were provided, Examiner considered item 1 in non patent literature 15 document using URL provided on PTO-1449. In order for the other two items to be considered, Applicant should either submit a copy for the cited documents or provide the Internet address where they can be accessed.

Drawings

20 3. Applicant is respectfully suggested to resubmit drawings for the application. It appears that the drawings are not properly scanned in.

4. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the negotiable instrument with identification information affixed onto it must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held

5 in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

10 (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

15 6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out 20 the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

25 7. Claim 1, 3-5, and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McWhorter (US 5,471,798, “McWhorter” hereinafter) in view of Brikho (US 6,592,029, “Brikho” hereinafter).

Art Unit: 2876

McWhorter teaches a system and method for reducing fraudulent transaction involving financial transaction document such as a check (see abstract). As one measure of thwarting such fraud, McWhorter discloses printing payee picture on the document (col. 1, lines 55+).

McWhorter fails to specifically teach or fairly suggest that payee's picture resides in the 5 central computer, and it is retrieved for printing and also for verification purpose (i.e., when payee tries to deposit or cash the check).

Brikho teaches a check cashing system (see abstract) wherein customer information including photographic image is entered into a database (col. 1, lines 58+), and when a customer tries to cash a check, photographic record is retrieved for verification (col. 5, lines 26+; col. 6, 10 lines 42+).

In view of Brikho's teaching, it would have been obvious to an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ well-known database and other I/T infrastructure to the teachings of McWhorter in order to use the data for various authentication embodiments. Moreover, by saving image file of a user, his/her image can be repeatedly used in printing checks 15 or recalled at any retailers and other places for verifying authentication. Although not explicitly suggested in McWhorter, bank relies on existing customer record (or database) in printing additional checks for the existing customers.

8. Claim 6-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McWhorter (US 5,471,798) as modified by Brikho (US 6,592,029) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in 20 view of Hayoshi (US 6,611,598). The teachings of McWhorter as modified by Brikho have been discussed above.

McWhorter/Brikho fail to specifically teach or fairly suggest the negotiable instrument further comprises a barcode or other machine-readable code containing payee information.

Hayoshi teaches a negotiable instrument (See abstract; figure 1) comprising a barcode containing payee information (col. 4, lines 36-41). Hayoshi further discloses use of MICR or 5 other optical characters (OCR) (col. 5, lines 22+).

In view of Hayoshi's teaching, it would have been obvious to an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ well-known barcode (1-D or 2-D) to the teachings of McWhorter/Brikho in order to increase data which can be carried on a negotiable instrument. Information contained in barcode can readily be read and used by the barcode reader. Moreover, 10 the code not legible to humans can conceal sensitive information on the check, and therefore an obvious expedient.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's amended claims and remarks filed on January 16, 2004. In the remarks, 15 Applicant argued that the Leef patent does not teach the claimed subject matter since Leef's embodiment discloses "holder" of the instrument, not "payee". Examiner respectfully disagrees with Applicant in that the holder can in fact be a payee. Examiner acknowledged that in some instance that a holder is not a payee. But in other instances (and probably more often than not), a holder is a payee. Accordingly, Leef patent teaches that payee is printed on the instrument. 20 However, other elements of the claims – database, infrastructure and the method for printing image were carefully reconsidered. In view of the above, this Office Action is made non-final.
